Summary of New Member Applicants 2024

Applicants:

By the membership application deadline in February 2024, the UArctic International Secretariat received eighteen (18) membership applications, including five Arctic member and thirteen Non-Arctic member applications. In addition, one Non-Arctic member application was deferred from last year to this year's vote. One of this year's applications was from a former member.

Following an extensive review, the UArctic Membership committee nominated the following four applicants to the category of Arctic Member of UArctic; of which three are Higher Education Institutions and one is Other Institutions. In addition, one applicant was accepted as Arctic / Other member by Toyon, and the decision is now to be confirmed by Assembly.

Below each institutional name is hyperlinked to a copy of the application support letter and member profile received.

2024 Arctic Member applicants – Higher Education Institutions:

1. College Nordique, Canada
2. Conestoga College Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning, Canada
3. Oslo School of Architecture and Design, Norway

2023 Non-Arctic Member applicants – Other institutions:

1. Geological Survey of Denmark and Greenland \(GEUS\), Denmark
2. Department of Geosciences, Norwegian University of Science and Technology \(NTNU\), Norway

Rationale:

UArctic Bylaws, section 2.1 – UArctic Membership:

UArctic has two membership categories:

1. Arctic Members
2. Non-Arctic Members

Within each membership category, there are two member types:

- i. Higher Education Institutions
- ii. Other Organizations

Acting on new applications for UArctic membership, the Assembly of UArctic decides on the category and type for each new member, based on recommendations from UArctic's Membership Committee - -.

UArctic Bylaws, section 2.6 – Resignation and Removal of Members:

If a former member organization re-applies for membership, Toyon can make an interim decision on their membership. The decision is to be confirmed by the following Assembly meeting.
