

INVITATION – PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

The Urban Arctic

Towards a new understanding of the North

Friday, June 10, 2016 – Umeå

A Nordic-French Research Day in the series The Changing Arctic

Today's understanding of the Arctic goes far beyond a focus on natural environments – not the least as it has broadened to include long populated areas of Northern Norway, Sweden and Finland. The dynamic and changing Arctic thus today consists of over four million people in multiethnic populations with varieties of backgrounds and interests, people who live in increasingly urban settings. Some of them may see the urban setting as an economic engine and others as an obstacle to a desirable future.

Together with the French Embassy/Institut français de Suède, Region Västerbotten, and the research program Mistra Arctic Sustainable Development, Arcum invites you to a workshop, followed by an open panel discussion at Västerbottens Museum, Bio Abelli.

Preliminary program

WORKSHOP registration only

- 9.00 Registration, coffee
- 9.30 Opening
- 9.45–12.00 Research presentations (max 5 x 20 min) and discussions
- 12.00–13.15 Networking lunch and poster session
- 13.15–15.30 Researcher presentations (max 5 x 20 min) and discussions
- 15.30 Fika

CONCLUDING PANEL DISCUSSION open to public

- 16.00–17.30 Wrap-up presentations (max 5 x 10 min) and panel discussion

Practical information

The participation is free, but registration is mandatory
Participants have the possibility to present their research with a poster
Please visit <https://ifsuede.wufoo.com/forms/the-urban-arctic/>

The Changing Arctic is a series of Nordic-French seminars that will address key Arctic issues in the field of research. They are a meeting place for French and Nordic scientists, but also a discussion forum with the public. The seminars will take place in Denmark, Finland, Norway and Sweden during 2016. They will address topics like urbanization, health, governance, patrimony, environment. The Changing Arctic received the financial support of Institut français.

Invited participants and preliminary presentations

Celia Yoshida Ahlin, Master student in Geography and Economic History, Umeå University
Challenges and Potential of Peripheral Cities in Sweden - The case of Vilhelmina

Alexandre Dubois, Researcher at the Department of Urban and Rural Development, Swedish University of Agricultural Sciences (SLU)
Small town, boundless opportunities – Transnational entrepreneurship in Sweden’s northern periphery

Sébastien Gadal, Professor at the Department of Geography in Spatial Analysis and Geomatics, Aix-Marseille University
Metropolisation, urbanisation and flood debacle modeling exposures of Yakutsk (Russia)

Brynhild Granås, Researcher at University of Tromsø (UiT)
The nature of the urban Arctic – Learnings from Kiruna

Torill Nyseth, Professor at University of Tromsø (UiT)
Urban identification and affiliation among city-Sami in Tromsø, Rovaniemi and Umeå

Linda Sandberg, Researcher at Umeå Centre for Gender Studies, Umeå university
Gender-aware city planning in the Urban Arctic

Kristina Sehlin Macneil, PhD student at Vaartoe - Centre for Sami Research, Umeå University
Urban obstacles or carriers of an important cultural heritage? The dialogue between Laevas Sameby and LKAB Mining

Olof Stjernström, Ass. Professor in Geography and Economic History, Umeå University
Labour income effects of the recent “mining boom” in Northern Sweden

Yvette Vaguet, Ass. Professor at the Department of Geography, University of Rouen
Title to be confirmed